RÉNATA NOTNI:

Two of the main actors of the series "El Dragón" The sublime Renata Notni and the charmer Sebastian Rulli

The Mexican actress, a rising star, answers Jean-Marc Laurent's questions, French journalist.

The success of the Netflix series has been growing in Europe since the end of 2019, particularly in France. If the heroine Adela Cruz (private driver in the story) has entered the hearts of thousands of fans in our country, the last episode of season 2 of "El Dragón" has disappointed the whole world. A taste of bitterness for a series that missed the opportunity to be a total success. Did the writers smoke the carpet too much? Luckily, the actors' performance had nothing to do with it. Meeting with Renata Notni.

JM.L : We're both from the beginning of January, we should get on well with Capricorn in astrology! To speak only of astrology, in Aztec mythology, you are a flint, which means that you advance in life without complaining but that you are authoritarian. Does that sound like you?

R.N: Well... I can say it does! Haha... I started to learn to be much easier to live with and to follow the current... I realized that being very bossy and wanting to control everything wouldn't be best for me. Especially in my line of work.

JM.L : You studied in a school specialized in arts in Mexico, which led you to play in telenovelas, and in 2014 you moved to New York. Why this choice rather than Los Angeles for example?

R.N: I've always liked New York since the first time I saw it, I remember that even before I met it and went and lived there, I strongly thought I would move there to further my studies. The whole atmosphere of New York inspires me a lot, all the art, all the people, the streets, everything. I also realized that there are a lot of good theater studios, so I chose NY.

JM.L : And what has the United States changed for you ?

R.N: It's a treasure for me. I can say it was one of the most powerful experiences of my life! I had the chance to get to know myself much better, to feel lost and then to find myself again. I learned a lot and met some amazing people.

JM.L: How did you experience the rise of success and fame in your country and then in the rest of the world?

R.N: It's incredible, I can say it's just proof that what I do works, I love the fact that I tell people the stories I have to tell, I love that acting can change people's perspective on life. And sharing all this with my country and the world is just incredible!

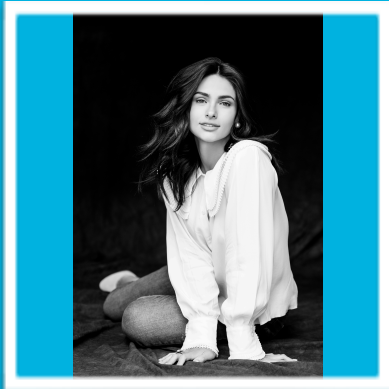

JM.L: How did you experience the coronavirus crisis the world is experiencing?

R.N: Well... it's crazy! but I always try to be positive and see the good side of it, I'm learning to embrace the "unknown". Also taking this time of forced rest that we've experienced and reflection to really think of life as a gift. We can't afford to wait any longer and fall asleep, we have to wake up to life, after all this, we can't go back to the same thing.

JM.L: Beautiful, active, talented and young, are you already thinking of putting your fame at the service of a particular cause? If so, which one?

R.N: I always try to use my voice and social media to share things that I really think and that people need to see. I like to help people, animals... with all this situation, the economy is crazy, so I try to share moments of happiness or dreams as options to help people forget, etc!

JM.L : You're very present on social networks, and today this allows a contact that instantly promotes proximity with admirers. Is this important? And do you think that it can also harm the image of notoriety?

R.N: I think that social media is the best way to be closer to people, I like the idea that they can meet us as we really are, as REAL people, and not only as they watch us on TV or in magazines. I like talking with them and listening to them.

JM.L: What do you think of the power of these networks?

R.N : Well I think it's very powerful, if you use social media in the right way of course. That we can share everything immediately! Everything we think, everything we want to tell the world in a second. But not without thinking.

JM.L : Aren't you afraid of being addicted to "Likes" and feeling bad the same day or there are less of them?

R.N: That's why I say we have to use it in the right way! You CAN'T be obsessed with people who approve of you...it can drive you completely crazy! You have to focus on sharing your uniqueness, who you really are and accept the imperfections. You also have to avoid comparing yourself to all the people you meet on social media. It's not the truth you see there.

JM.L : How do you see your evolution in the cinema, is there a role of accomplished woman that you would like to play?

R.N: I'm looking forward to playing ALL the characters I can play. Every character I can think of is a challenge for me.

JM.L : Among the festivals around the world, there is the one in Cannes in France. Do you know it AND does it make you dream?

R.N : Oh of course I'd like to go there, I have a lot of dreams in my head and I work a lot to make them all come true !

JM.L : You've already been to Paris, in what context ? What did you enjoy? You are also a model, Paris still represents fashion according to you?

R.N: I LOVE PARIS SO MUCH! I've been there many times and each time I come, it's totally magical. It means a lot for fashion, but also for food and people. And EVERYTHING!

JM.L : What does wealth mean to you ? Is it a symbol of success? A desire for power? Something else?

R.N: I think wealth comes when someone does what is really your passion and works a lot for it. So yes, I think it's a sign of success.

JM.L : Your beauty is natural and you eclipse other beautiful actresses. What do you like most about yourself? (if you tell me the eyes, we already agree)

R.N: Ha, ha, thanks for my eyes... I love my eyes because I feel like everything expresses itself through them. But what I like most about me is that I'm a relentless person and I'm always working to become the best version of myself without comparing myself to anyone else!
